"The Seychelles Trading Company (STC) would like to remind the public that the prices of food commodities can go up as well as come down. Whenever the combined effect of the factors influencing the costs shows a decrease, STC will pass the benefit on to the public.

The final costs of food commodities are influenced by four major factors - world market prices at origin, local exchange rates for currencies in which the products are priced, freight and insurance rates to transport the goods from origin to Seychelles, and various local costs after arrival."

The specified prices are for STC retail outlets and are also recommended prices for other retail outlets. However, retailers are not bound to sell their products at these prices. These prices are valid for a period of 4 months.
